Upon completion of the self sign up registration you will receive a message to confirm your email address. Please log in to your email for further instructions.

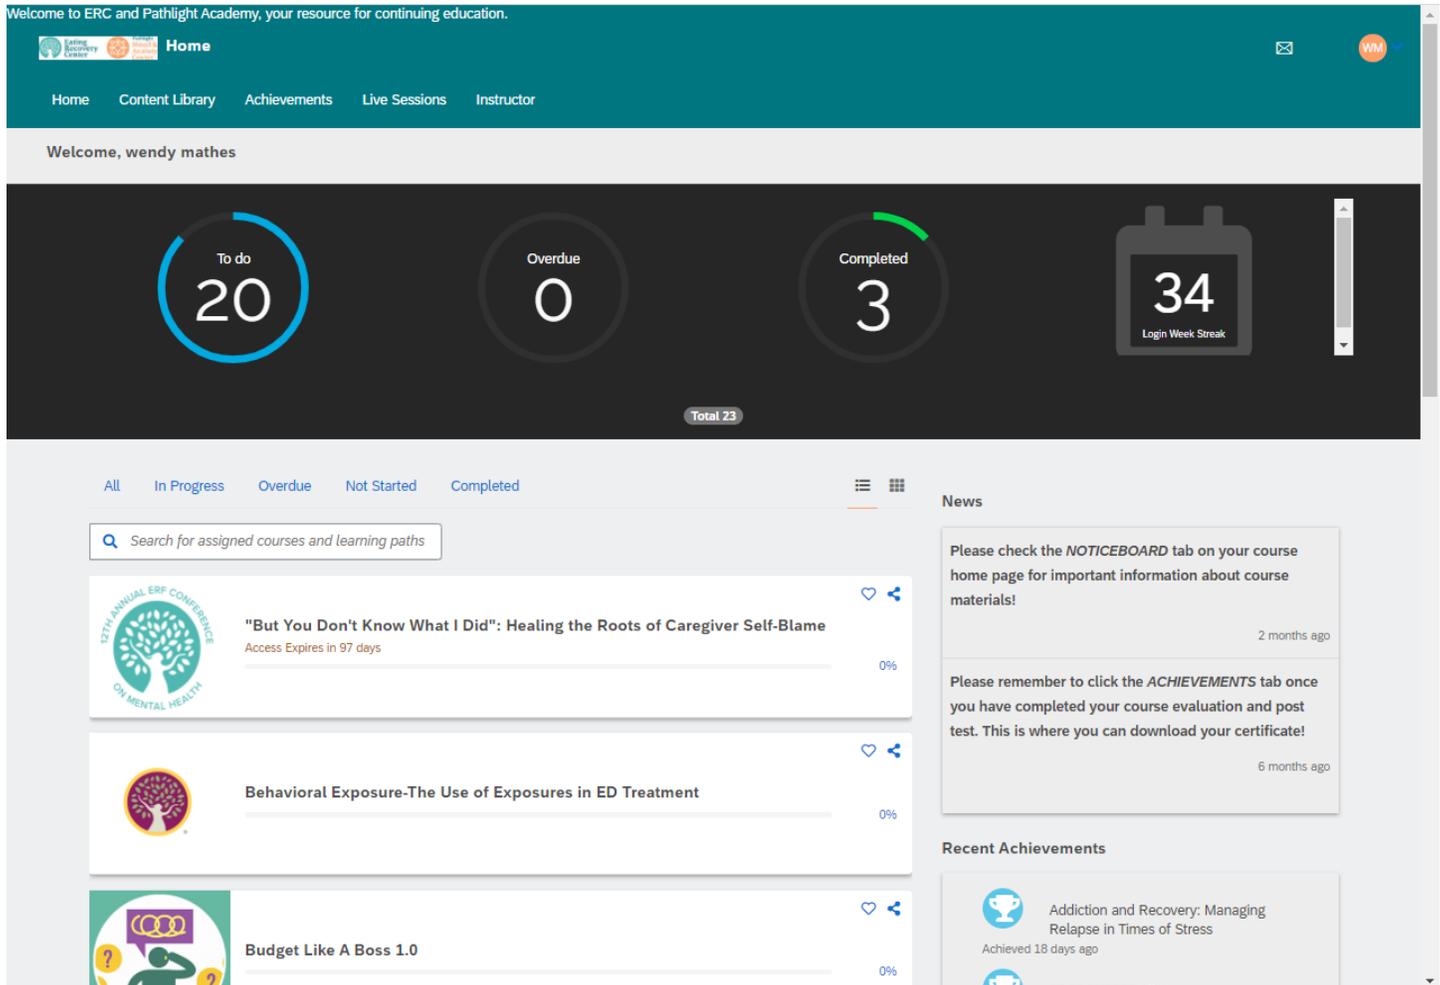

You will receive an email from ERC and Pathlight Continuing Education Events that will contain your username and links to set up your profile and set your password.

Once you have set up your account you will have access to the continuing education requirements for live and on demand conference sessions as well as digital content library which has all of our on-demand webinars that we have offered throughout the year.

If you forget your password, please email continuing.education@ercpathlight.com.

Once you are logged in you will be brought to your home page. It will look like this:

Courses you have attended will be listed here. If you click the Content Library tab, webinars that are available for self-sign up will be listed. All CE certificates will be stored under the “Achievements” tab. If you have attended a course or a series of courses (Learning Path) and they do not show up on your home page, please check the “Completed” tab as they may show up there.

Depending on your settings, courses may be displayed in list form as above or in tiles as below.

Each tile/ item in the list will bring you to the course homepage where you will find the assessments for each of the presentations.

On the course homepage you will hit the “start this course” button. You will be brought to a white screen with another “start” button. Hit that start button and you will be asked a series of questions about the presentation and speaker(s) (Figure 1).

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL continuingeducationerc.litmos.com/course/4459734?r=False&ts=637366328713029145. The page title is "But You Don't Know What I Did": Healing the Roots of Caregiver Self-Blame. The page content includes a presentation summary, learning objectives, and a "Start this course" button circled in orange. A teal callout box with a white border and an arrow pointing to the button contains the text: "After logging in you should be directed to the course home page. Click Start the Course to begin".

Please complete all of the questions. These make up the post-test and evaluation. If you scroll down a bit on the page you will see a results tab that will allow you to view any questions that you may have answered incorrectly on the post-test as well as the correct answers to those questions. My understanding is that some of the questions can be tricky 😊. You can take the post-test as many times as necessary to achieve a passing score.

"But You Don't Know What I Did": Healing the Roots of Caregiver Self-Blame

Presentation Summary
Although family-oriented therapies and caregiver involvement are increasingly regarded as vital in the treatment of eating disorders, the way in which many caregivers engage in this work can be problematic. This presentation will explore some of the underlying drivers of these problematic behaviors, including caregiver fear and self-blame, and introduce a framework for clinicians to support caregivers as they take on these challenging roles in their loved one's recovery.

Learning Objectives
Identify the common drivers of caregiver problematic behaviors
List the protective functions of caregiver self-blame
Describe cognitive techniques to transform caregiver self-blame
Demonstrate the use of Emotion-Focused techniques to transform caregiver self-blame
Identify the potential benefits of using Chair Work to transform caregiver self-blame
